

The international order: more geopolitical or more plural?

Pol Morillas .....	7
Introduction. Finding order in disorder: geopolitics, cooperation and 40 years of Revista CIDOB d'Afers Internacionals
Esther Barbé .....	21
Order in transition and rules under challenge
Richard Youngs .....	37
Democracy, global order and the war in Ukraine
Alicia García Herrero .....	51
Reshuffling of global value chains: United States-China rivalry and the role of the EU
Cristina Monge .....	75
Governance of the climate agenda: complex, polycentric and fraught with imperfections
Manuel Muñiz .....	91
Technology diplomacy for the digital era
Seán Golden .....	103
A perspective from Asia on the global order: the importance of global understanding
Sabine Selchow .....	119
Planetary politics: reviving the spirit of the concept of "global civil society"
Cathryn Clüver Ashbrook .....	131
The networked power of urban diplomacy in global governance

Book reviews (subjects)

Robert Kissack .....	149
Liberal democracies: a history of vulnerability and the constant search for security
Manuel Montobbio .....	152
Thinking about the world, embracing the world
Oriol Costa .....	155
The international order has rearguard problems too
Inés Arco Escriche .....	158
Rethinking international law through feminism in "posthuman" times
Claudia Rives Casanova .....	161
China Ltd: a new state model for the world?
Xavier Coller .....	163
Why do some people go into politics and others don't?

Infographic annex

40th anniversary of Revista CIDOB d'Afers Internacionals .....	167
---	-----