

Articles

The content analysis methodology. Uses and applications in communication research on Spanish-speaking countries

1-15

Valeriano Piñeiro-Naval

The essay in Spanish contemporary audiovisual media: definition, production and trends

17-32

Norberto Mínguez, Cristina Manzano-Espinosa

The image of Barcelona in Online Travel Reviews during 2017 Catalan independence process

33-49

Natàlia Lozano-Monterrubbio, Assumpció Huertas

Twitter, Presidential Debates and Attention Economy: A Symbiosis between Television Audience and Social Media Users during Campaign Season

51-65

Pedro Santander, Claudio Elórtegui, Camila Buzzo

The origins of media trust in a young democracy

67-84

Čedomir Markov, Young Min

Spanish Audience Interest in Televised Politics: from electoral debates to politainment

85-100

Natalia Quintas-Froufe, Ana González-Neira, Erika Conde-Vázquez

Who counts? The presence of women directors in Spanish independent cinema through a data analysis of film circulation (2013-2018)

101-118

Elena Oroz, Mar Binimelis

Comparing Facebook as an interactive communication tool for companies in LatAm and worldwide

119-136

Paul Capriotti, Ileana Zeler

Haptic Visuality and Film Narration. Mapping New Women's Cinema in Spain

137-147

Silvia Guillamón-Carrasco

YouTube celebrity endorsement: audience evaluation of source attributes and response to sponsored content. A case study of influencer Verdeliss

149-166

Sergio Monge-Benito, Angeriñe Elorriaga-Illera, Elena Olabarri-Fernández

Media Coverage of Campaigns: A multilevel study of Mexican women running for office

167-186

Fernanda Vidal-Correa

Self-destructive content in university teaching: new challenge in the Digital Competence of Educators

187-199

José Sixto-García, Ana Duarte-Melo

Communication & Society is licensed under Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0.